Background

In 1993, Hal began to utilize his skills and joined the team of The National Ceiling, Wall & Lighting Network.

Mr. Graves received his BS and MA in Communications from Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana.

After serving for six years as the Assistant Director of Public Information for the University of Nebraska, he was a Television Producer for KBGT-TV in Lincoln, Nebraska and KETV-TV in Omaha, Nebraska for seven years.

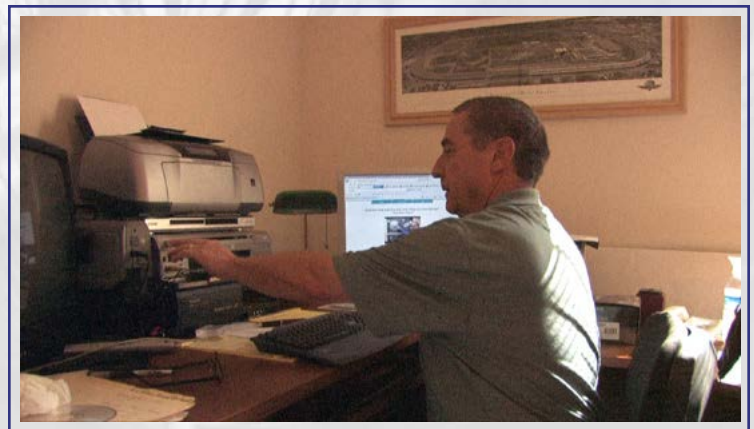

Meet Hal Graves

Hal's Christian faith has been the cornerstone of everything he's tried to achieve in Life. After college, he embarked upon a career in radio and television. He met his wife Debby and the two were married in 1976.

The Lord blessed them with two wonderful children, Bradley and Julie. In 1996 Hal began his own video production company. Later the business expanded to designing commercial websites, CD-ROM, DVD and Blue-Ray multimedia programs.

Mr. Graves is a professional narrator, he has voiced hundreds of broadcast and corporate related commercials, programs, and promotional productions.

Mr. Graves brings over 30 years of marketing, television, and multimedia experience to our National Board of Advisors Team.

21st Century Marketing

Mr. Graves brings over 30 years of marketing, television, and multimedia experience to the National Ceiling, Wall & Lighting Network.

Utilizing his experience Hal is able to keep the network up on the latest computer technology and systems. Whether we are using our smart devices, laptops or desktop computers, Hal continues to lead us into the 21st century.
